YEI Goal and Approach

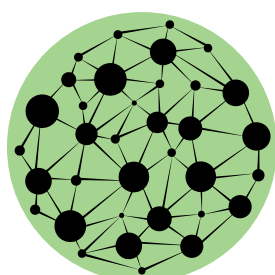

Improving youth interethnic integration.

Through enabling positive interactions among ethnically diverse youth at school and community level, and improving civic education contents, skills and behaviors, and volunteering practices of youth.

Participatory, comprehensive approach.

Through including all key educational institutions, 450 primary and secondary schools and 81 municipalities in Macedonia.

Three mutually supporting and interconnected Components

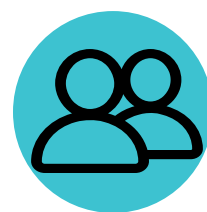

Component 1: Strengthening Interethnic Cohesion in the Education System

Component 2: Strengthen Democratic Culture and Civic Behaviors Among Youth

Component 3: Provision of Incentives to Deserving Communities (Schools Renovations)

Component 1: Strengthening Interethnic Cohesion in the Education System

Through continuous cooperation with the Ministry of Education and Science, key educational institutions and municipalities, the Project will foster opportunities for interaction among schools from different communities and create better ethnic cohesion among youth.

Component 2: Strengthen Democratic Culture and Civic Behaviors Among Youth

In partnership with the Ministry of Education and Science, the Project will support changes to the civic education contents and introduce methods to promote active involvement of students in school and community decision-making processes.

Component 3: Provision of Incentives to Deserving Communities - Schools Renovations

As an incentive for schools to participate in project activities for improving interethnic cohesion and developing democratic and civic values and behaviors among youth, the Project will renovate schools and improve learning conditions.

Expected Results and Impact

Increased interethnic cohesion among youth

Proactive, productive and engaged youth in society

Civic Education content reshaped and improved

Over 50 school buildings renovated and maintained

Sustained process at institutional and local level
